How it works

Take the guesswork and stress out of purchasing hearing aids.

Experience the joy of improved hearing when you try our hearing aids where you live, work and play – before making a financial commitment. Get to know what you can expect from your hearing aids wherever you're most comfortable and have peace of mind with your decision. Based on your trial experience, your hearing care professional will ensure you have the hearing solution that makes the most sense for you.

Follow these tips to ensure you get the perfect solution.

- Wear them for as many hours as possible during your trial
- Use them in environments you usually find challenging
- Try them wherever you spend time

FLEX:TRIAL makes it easy

By trying your hearing aids where you live, work, and play, you will gain peace of mind that you have the right hearing aid for you.

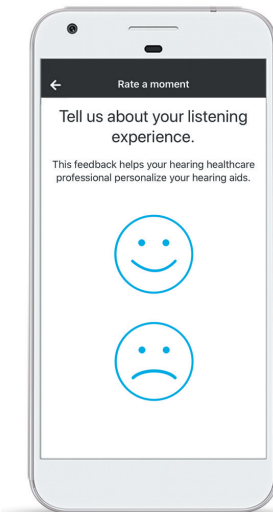

What's in it for me?

- Take the stress out of making a decision about hearing aids. A real-world assessment with FLEX:TRIAL hearing aids lets you experience improved hearing before you commit to a purchase
- Experience the benefits of your recommended hearing solution firsthand before making a financial commitment
- Know what to expect from your hearing aids
- Once you've tried your aids, you can feel confident you made the right decision

Make it personal

Success is a two-way street

Use our Ratings feature within the Remote Plus app* to share your feedback with your hearing care professional right from your smartphone while you're out and about in daily life. This provides them with more useful data to understand how the hearing aids are performing. You may also receive automatic suggestions to improve your hearing experience. And the app helps you hear your best at any moment, with the ability to control volume, mute and unmute and change programs.

*For the use of the Remote Plus app, Unitron hearing aids with Bluetooth® connectivity is required. The Remote Plus app works on Apple smartphones with iOS 12 or newer and Android smartphones with version 7 or newer.
